

ANTHONY WAYNE ANIMAL HOSPITAL
PRESURGICAL CONSENT FORM

Owner: _____ Pet: _____ Procedure: _____

Pre-Anesthetic Bloodwork

Our greatest concern is the well-being of your pet. Disorders of any major organ system cannot be detected unless blood testing is done. Abnormalities of any of these will increase anesthetic risk. For these reasons, we highly recommend pre-anesthetic blood screens. _____

_____ Mini Pre-Surgical Profile: Includes screening for liver and kidney functions only. Establishes a baseline for age related changes. Cost: $20.39

_____ Pre-Surgical Profile: Includes all of above plus screening for diabetes, gastrointestinal, pancreatic diseases. Also includes a complete blood count that screens for anemia, infection, and possible clotting problems which can indicate a serious problem related to bleeding during or after surgery. Cost: $45.99

_____ Comprehensive Pre-Surgical Profile: Includes all of above but in far more detail; much more in-depth information about each organ's function. Cost: $59.58

Intravenous Fluids

IV fluids given prior and during surgery are strongly recommended for every pet undergoing anesthesia no matter the age or procedure (but required for pets over 10 years of age). IV fluids help maintain normal blood pressure, correct the dehydration from being fasted, increase the metabolism and excretion of the anesthetics by the kidneys, and provide rapid administration life-saving drugs should an emergency situation develop. Cost: $44.68 _____

Electrocardiogram

A pre-anesthetic ECG shows any electrical disturbances in the transmission of impulses in the heart, heart enlargement, or arrhythmias. Any of these conditions increase anesthetic risks. Cost: $67.17 _____

Pain Medication

We strongly recommend pain medications both prior to and following all surgical procedures. Cost varies with exact medication and weight of pet (see treatment plan).

Pulse Oximetry and Blood Pressure Monitoring

Your pet is monitored constantly through the entire procedure for blood oxygen content, heart rate, respiratory rate and blood pressure to assure all vital signs are normal. If even mild abnormalities are detected by the machines, we will give medication by injection to correct them.
